

Northern Beaches Music Festival 2011

Tramshed Hall

Saturday 5 March 6pm-12pm

ZOE ELLIOT
Sat. 6:00pm

A singer songwriter who is renowned for her fresh, charismatic and emotional performances. Her music ranges from fun and rhythmic to soulful, reflective and quirky. "She glides from pop to folk with ease. This young, vibrant, beautiful songstress has the voice of an angel." Shashona McCall, Indie Showcase.

PAT DRUMMOND
Sat. 7:00pm

A performer with an astonishing capacity to entertain; and a songwriter, whose passionate commitment to Australia and its people has produced songs that are social snapshots of ordinary Australians – from the sophisticated city-dwellers of Double Bay to the bush people of the Outback.

SHELLS
Sat. 8:00pm

A breath of fresh air, Shells' connection to nature forms the core of her songs. Diverse in her storytelling and unique in her style from finger picking to hints of the blues, you'll be moved by Shell's free spirit and intimate sharing.

SPASM BAND
Sat. 9:00pm

Lively jug band / blues / roots music with strong vocals and a variety of instruments like double bass, harmonica, guitar and dobro. Their sound is get down & enjoy good time music. All members have played in various well known bands over the years.

WHEEZE & SUCK BAND
Sat. 10:00pm

Roots music and original material with humour, dash and flair that betrays their UK traditional origins. Scuba diving beneath cathedrals and holy apparitions at Coogee Beach are just two of the weird and strange stories the Wheezers have to share, not to mention a host of ripping tunes.

FERGUSSON
Sat. 11:00pm

Fergusson is the consummate professional who obviously loves the music, loves to perform and holds an audience spellbound with his skill and musicianship. His musical arrangements are outstanding and his songs are well crafted and will stand the test of time.
